

(From left) HM2 Geoff Engler, HM3 Richard Arnett, HM2 Robert Neal, MA1 Gregory Prattis, HM3 Mark Sizemore, RM2 Micheal Nix, HM3 Dennis Johnson, HM1 Fred Gallegos. There's nothing better than hard work on a hot day!

GOOD CHEMISTRY

By JOSN Jose Blanco

After nearly five months, and with the end of deployment close at hand, Fleet Hospital 5 has seen and achieved a great deal in it's short time in Haiti. Having worked through sweltering heat, congestive traffic, unrelenting mosquitoes attacks and daily trips into some of Haiti's worst ghettos, the members of the FH5 have not only endured a difficult deployment, but have excelled at it.

After months of bumpy rides, dusty air and confined working spaces, hospital personnel have taxed their senses almost as much as they have spent their emotions.

With a nearly 200 Humanitarian Assistance

(From left) LCDR Nancy Moya, HM3 Jay Keith, SPC Trey Akin, HNAnna Huezoescobar, GMG2 Dennis Kelly, MR2 Eddie Chrone, take a breather.

missions now completed and over 18,000 patients seen and treated, FH5 staff have developed a local reputation among UN forces and local missionaries as being one of the finest medical facilities operating in Haiti. Behind this hard-earned distinction, there is also a less visible attribute contributing to the

(continued next page)